MINUTE ENTRY

The Court has recently received and reviewed a pleading filed by the maternal grandparents entitled "Visitation and Child Support" filed on December 3, 2003. By this pleading, the maternal grandparents appear to be seeking to establish paternity, parenting time, and child support orders against the alleged father, Dennis P. Hill. The Court treats the maternal grandparents' pleading as a Petition to Establish First Order for Paternity, Visitation, and Child Support.

LET THE RECORD REFLECT that paternity of the minor child does not seem to have been legally established previously. Paternity must first be established before the Court can consider and enter any orders regarding the rights and responsibilities of the alleged father, which include the issues of legal custody, parenting time, and child support. Until then, the maternal grandparents continue to have legal custody of the minor child with supervised visitation ordered for Mother. As such, the maternal grandparents retain the legal right and responsibility to make decisions regarding the child's visitation with the alleged father.
